The retreats are sponsored by the Priestly Society of the Holy Cross, an international association of secular clergy that is intrinsically united to Opus Dei and dedicated to helping priests develop their spiritual life in union with their Bishop and fellow priests.

The retreats are silent and are conducted by a priest of the Opus Dei Prelature.

You are asked to bring an alb.

Contributions over and above the cost of the retreats, towards the upkeep of the Conference Centres, will always be gratefully received.

In order to be capable of mercy, therefore, we must first of all dispose ourselves to listen to the Word of God. This means rediscovering the value of silence in order to meditate on the Word that comes to us. In this way, it will be possible to contemplate God's mercy and adopt it as our lifestyle.

POPE FRANCIS, Misericordiae Vultus, no. 13

While every moment can be an "acceptable time" (2 Cor 6:2) for the Holy Spirit to lead the priest to a direct growth in prayer, study and an awareness of his own pastoral responsibilities, nevertheless there are certain "privileged" moments for this (...) such as spiritual exercises, days of recollection and spirituality, etc. These are opportunities for spiritual and pastoral growth, in which one can devote more time to pray in peace; opportunities to get back to what it means deep down to be a priest, to find fresh motives for faithfulness and pastoral endeavour.
